HARVEST DAY AT CLARION—THE FARM SCHOOL COLONY IN UTAH

The Celebration of the garnering of the First Crop from 1,500 Acres by the Jewish Colonists at Clarion, Utah, who are led by Four Graduates of The National Farm School, on August 18th, 1912, was participated in by Gov. Spry, The Land Commissioners of Utah, and the president of the Commercial Club of Salt Lake City, who described the founding of this colony, "under the direction of scientifically trained leaders, the greatest event in the history of Utah during the year 1911," and by the Mormon and Gentile farmers of the vicinity. This photograph was taken during the festivities.

“Go Forth and Possess The Land”

Address by Rabbi Joseph Krauskopf, D.D.

Founder and President of The National Farm School, at its Fifteenth Annual Meeting

FARM SCHOOL, PA., OCTOBER 6, 1912

---

In the fifteen years, that we have pilgrimed from the city to the Harvest Campus of the National Farm School, we have witnessed many changes in the school and grounds, and still more changes in the attitude of men toward our purposes. Much of what was at one time doubt as to the ultimate success of our undertaking has been converted into conviction, much of one-time opposition has been changed into support.

Change of view point within fifteen years regarding education.

To the student of modern thought, however, this change is not at all surprising. It is a part of the general drift of viewpoints that has, in late years, manifested itself with regard to the education of our young. All educational institutions have been subjected to searching investigations. This scrutiny has resulted in the charge that the elaborate and expensive organization, which our public schools represent at the present time, does not train our pupils for useful pursuits. It does not, in the main, prepare them to enter trades, industries, manual employments. It does not fit, by far, the largest number for the careers they are to follow in later life.

It is but natural that this inadequate training in our public schools should reveal itself in the industrial unrest which is a characteristic of our day. The dissatisfaction and agitation manifested in all industrial centers are but the seething of our unfitness for the exigencies of life. Our dislike for manual pursuits but represents our unfitness and unpreparedness for modern conditions. Our cities swarm with unskilled workers who are the flotsam and the jetsam of the industrial stream. Ready to go anywhere, but having no where to go, willing to do anything, but not knowing how

Unrest due in part to improper training.

to do one thing well. These are the people who figure in every half-baked economic panacea. They are the followers of every political party that promises quick wealth without work. They are the shouters on the street corners, who denounce the rich and wealthy of our country as marauders and brigands, whose wealth has been filched from the common people.

Recognizing the danger from a continuance of such an inadequate and inefficient educational regime, statesmen and men of leading men urge vocational schools as a corrective.

leading are calling for correctives. Our public school must be re-adapted to the life the vast majority of people is destined to live, and the education fitted to the normal life of the nation.

We are an industrial nation, so vocational schools are now proposed as additional to the educational system. Schools of this type are found in Germany, where the pupils are trained from earliest years for the industrial era, in which they live. Furthermore, it is proposed that in every public school of our country, but especially and more particularly, in the rural and country schools of our land, there be introduced at once a course in agriculture. The universal demand is that farming be henceforth included in the curriculum of every schoolhouse throughout the land.

Farming has thus within the lifetime of The National Farm School, been translated from a refuge for the despairing to the dignity of a career for the aspiring. Farming has become a profession, with more claims for man's respect, and, from a material and vital standpoint, more necessary and useful than law, medicine, the ministry or any others of the so-called learned pursuits.

Farming becomes a foremost profession.

What is probably more remarkable still is the fact that the insistence on the introduction of manual training and agriculture in our public schools, does not emanate from the brain of the dreamer and the visionary, but, on the contrary, from the most practical of practical men. It is the manufacturers, the men of affairs, the bankers, financiers, the business men, the presidents of railroads and corporations, who are urging upon the boards of education for a re-adjustment of their courses of instruction, that will teach their pupils the useful things instead of the ornaments, the luxuries of education; that will teach them to know the voice of Mother Earth, rather than the language of Ancient Rome, that is dead, and of Greece, whose glory has vanished forever. So urgent is the need for a modification of our public school system,

The demand for instruction
in farming comes from employers of labor.

that, at a conference of New York State bankers, as reported in the New York Herald, a resolution was adopted, in which these financiers called for just such a practical curriculum as indicated above to displace the "generation of educated loafers" which the false methods in vogue raised.

By the introduction of farming as an integral branch of the educational system, much of the evil from which our present day society suffers will be arrested. Our country suffers from an under production of food and materials, hence the increasing cost of living and provisions. Thousands upon thousands eat what others produce, who should themselves consume what their own hands have brought forth.

And urged as a means of lessening evils of our day.

Farming, when taught in the public schools, will mean more land under tillage, more men and women planting grains and vegetables, more chickens raised, more cows milked. It will mean more production, to meet the increasing demands for food from a growing population. The economic law of supply and demand is inexorable, a larger number than now of producers must be busy supplying the demands of an enlarging body of consumers.

Farming reduces cost of living.

The teaching of farming to the youth of our land will also mean a greater sanity of body and mind, among the people. Our population that threatens to become citybred, is in danger of onesided development: brilliant and clever, but not well rounded and well balanced. No society can long be divorced from immediate contact with earth and growing things, and remain normal. It is not the natural way, and what is not natural is abnormal. We are a part of nature and so long as we live according to nature's laws, all is well with us.

Also induces a greater sanity of mind and body.

The application of the foregoing observations to our own national conditions, in the economic and industrial field, and to the mission of The National Farm School, is only too obvious. When this school was founded, the social and industrial conditions of our national life, which then called for correction, had not become so developed and pronounced as they have become in recent days. Within the last few years, we have seen the truths we then announced, verified in what has come to pass. The perils and the dire evils of the systems we allowed to go unchecked, have been exposed within the last few months.

Farm School verifies the truth of these reflections.

While our National Farm School is not a sectarian institution, and while its doors have always been open to applicants of any faith, its special purpose has been to solve the problems confronting such of our Jewish people as live amid the squalor, the congestion, the unwholesomeness of our large cities. Our people are affected by the same laws that rule other people. They are oppressed by the same dire forces that weaken others. The influences of a vicious environment are apparent. Too few producers among them results in a shortage in the food supply and its consequent poverty and suffering. An unnatural manner of living results in a disregard for the decencies and privacies of life, which tends to breed immorality. The overcrowding in the cities brings upon them just that dire calamity that has recently become the disgrace and shame, not only of New York City, but also of the entire nation. Israel, that has maintained through the centuries a reputation for purity and morality, is shamed by the recent revelations in the Ghetto of New York.

This unnatural way of living, of overcrowding more families in a flat or tenement than is decent, results in wresting the inhabitants of the Ghetto from a sane, wholesome and normal life, and produces the defective, the dependent, the deficient, and, in this class, crawl the defeated, the despairing and the despondent. All these classes of people are deflections from the social order; the penalty for these is the large number of institutions that continually increase the burden of our charity organizations.

One economic law has permitted the congestion in the Ghetto to lay its foundation walls; by another economic law must these same walls be razed. That economic law is already operative. It is by that law that the Farm School hopes to exert a considerable influence upon those most affected by the present conditions prevailing in our overcrowded cities. One man on a farm is worth one hundred in a sweatshop.

When the Farm School was founded, one purpose was to forestall much of that misfortune which has since come to light in almost all large cities. The hope was strong within us that men of influence and wealth would realize the baneful outcome of such misery as befell the people of the Ghetto, and aid us in curing it.

Jewish people suffers from economic conditions in cities.

The result of overcrowding a burden on public philanthropy.

Farm School a means of lessening evils.

Ambition of the Farm School to stem misery.

The question we may well ask now is this: Have we succeeded? Has this National Farm School shunted the dweller of the congested districts into the channels that lead to countrysides? Have we induced many of our people to go back to the farm?

Have we succeeded?

Our answer is: We have started the farmward tide. Ours was no amateur's game to bring to pass a complete change of mind and heart on the part of so many people. It meant, for the overwhelming majority, a complete upsetting of deeply rooted conceptions of livelihood, even to entertain the desire to return to the soil. We had to encounter the inherited prejudices of centuries, and to make due allowance for an utter unfamiliarity with the vocation of farming, due to enforced century-long divorcement from the soil. In urging upon the Jewish people to hearken again to their ancestral calling, amid new ways and in these new lands, there were few to encourage us, fewer still who had faith in this method of economic salvation. But, we persisted, and results show that we have prospered, and we have been able to remain alive unto this day, because our aim was right. The changes wrought within the last fifteen years in the state of affairs in our own land, and in the changes in the outlook of men, are additional assurances that we were right from the start.

What we have done.

Within these fifteen years, we have established an institution that is valued at a quarter of a million dollars. We have graduated a hundred and sixteen pupils, who are now engaged in farming. Besides those who graduated, a large number of our students were here only on part time, from six months to two years and more, and most of these are also engaged in agricultural work. Among our graduates are specialists in the employment of the United States Government, instructors of agriculture in public and private schools, a few managers of large estates and plantations, farm foremen, as well as farmers of their own acres. We take the natural pride of a parent in referring to the excellent work done by some of our graduates, who are engaged in expert investigations, making for themselves a reputation and thus proving benefactors of the human race, by their discoveries.

What we own.

Ours was the gigantic task of popularizing a hitherto unknown and certainly untried career. We have succeeded in

What we had to do. making people think about it, and look with more favor upon the work undertaken. We have the school, the graduates, and the support of a constituency.

But these achievements on the ledger are counterbalanced by the deficiencies. After the demonstration of our usefulness and vital need in the national economy of the people, our institution should be ten times larger than it is, our school vaster in range of influence, radiating a far greater power upon the people of our country. This National Farm School would be a mightier institution to-day, had the support been accorded it which a school of agriculture of the character of ours justly deserves. We have had to fight for our existence from the very start. The objectors were as plentiful as thistles on fallow land, and we have had to banish them, one by one, and many yet there are to be overcome.

What we might have done if properly supported. It is objected that this school costs too much money to run, notwithstanding the fact that we have shown again and again that it costs us only a dollar a day per student, to educate, feed, lodge and clothe. We have authoritative statistics to show that probably no similar institution in our land has a per capita expense as low as ours, which, besides giving an education supplies its students with all their needs.

Objection on the score of cost answered. It is objected that we are fostering a separate school for Jewish boys—we are not. This is a mistaken and unwarranted error. The National Farm School is non-sectarian. It has been attended from the very start by non-Jews as well as Jews. The State of Pennsylvania would not give our institution an appropriation of $10,000.00 a year if it were sectarian.

Objection on the grounds that we are sectarian answered. We hear that the school is not needed, because in every state of the Union there are splendidly equipped state agricultural colleges, where any student, who wishes to take up farming, can attend.

Objection that our school duplicates institutions answered. Those who offer this argument to discount the purpose of our school, have only the slightest knowledge of the requirements for admission into state colleges and are basing their comments on hearsay evidence. This is rampant superficiality, and should not be offered in good faith by any one.

To enter a state agricultural college, a student must first have passed through the High School. A college education is even urged. In addition, he must have means to provide for his board and lodging, for his clothes and other needs. At the Farm School, boys are entered from the grammar schools; some of them have not even attended an American school, and nearly all of them are without means. Many of them come to us from homes of pinching poverty and from the congested sections of our large cities. They are received at our institution, if properly qualified, and not only are they educated for a self-maintaining career, but while they are with us, they are boarded, lodged, clothed for a term of four years, without any cost to them.

But this rebuttal does not silence the critic. It is still claimed, by Jew as well as non-Jews, that farming is not a career which the Jew can follow. This fallacy dies hard, but evidences are now too plentiful to permit this calumny to continue. An elaborate article, in the American Jewish Year Book of 1912, on the agricultural activities of the Jews, shows how extensively the Jewish people are attracted to farming. In most every state in the Union are Jewish farmers and a like declaration can be made after consulting our own records.

An old error
laid low.

But these disheartening misconceptions have retarded the progress of the school. We have had to engage in a campaign of education and teach people the truth about the Jews willingness to farm and the particular part of our school in effecting this. It has been our experience that when the subject of the Farm School is personally explained to any one, his interest is aroused, and as a rule he becomes enthusiastic over it. No greater assurance is required than this, to convince anyone that men are interested in the mission of the Farm School, when this is properly presented.

Without these misconceptions to combat, our progress would be greater.

But from the very first, we have had to go, and must this very day, go forth and tell people our purpose and the nature of our work, all of which has been attended by an enormous expense. Hundreds of thousands of letters, pamphlets, circulars, have had to be issued. Lecture tours had to be gotten up. Newspaper and magazine articles had to be written and published. Any cessation from this incessant campaign results in a falling off of membership. The only means of retaining those enrolled, is to

What was done to educate the public.

canvass in person or by mail, and to repeat our appeal for support.

We have this year secured the services of Mr. A. H. Fromenson, who is to engage in propoganda work. We trust that the friends of the Farm School will cordially receive him, wheresoever he happens to go, and accord him the attention and hearing, both his qualifications as a speaker and executive deserves, as well as the cause which he represents warrants.

The conviction has been gradually ripening that the work of the school would be greatly furthered and that the people would have more solid faith in the mission of this enterprise, were the president of the school not a minister. Whether justly or not, there is in the mind of the people a vague notion that a minister is a lesser kind of dreamer, and, almost as a rule, an impractical man. When such an one is found directing the destinies of an institution, there is considerable misgivings as to its real value. It is possible the Farm School has reached a stage when its presiding officer must be one who can wholly devote himself to it, who, as a college president of any academic institution, must be engaged in administering the affairs of the college and that only. The time is ripe for the appointment of a business man, as president. Such a man can direct the destinies of the school better than a professional man. He will command the attention and respect of the business world more than a professional man. He would be more apt to gain co-operation in the organization of local branches elsewhere, and in many other ways, further the interests of the Farm School.

That the Farm School has succeeded so admirably, is due in large measure, to the able and generous assistance of the Board of Directors, composed as ours is, of merchants and manufacturers and professional men. In the same connection, the unselfish work of the Ladies' Auxiliary Board has been a factor in promoting the welfare of the institution. We have always felt encouraged to call upon the National Advisory Board to assist us in the management of the school and consulted with them in the endeavors we were launching.

* * * * *

The growing desire for the life of the farmer has been shown, not only by the eagerness to join the Utah Colony, but in the organization of many similar colonial associations throughout the country, and particularly in Detroit, Cleveland and St. Louis, which associations have appealed to The National Farm School for Larger enrolment calls for more land to use.

Farm School's success due to able directors.

direction and guidance. This has also been shown by the unprecedented application of students, averaging, very often, five a day, all of whom had to be rejected, because of lack of facilities to accommodate them. Our student enrolment being larger than ever, enforces the conviction upon us that we are in need of larger acres. We need more land to cultivate—we must raise larger crops—we should have more cattle. The more students in our institution, the more need there is for live stock for them to handle, all of which means that there must be more land at our disposal.

More especially are we in need of Experimental Farms of the Max Schoenfeld Memorial Farm idea. By means of his generous gifts we were enabled to buy adjoining farms, one of them to be worked by advanced students or graduates, whereby they were to acquire thereon the experience needful to run a farm profitably themselves, and to derive therefrom sufficient revenue to enable them to make part payment on a farm of their own. This plan has proved to be a means whereby quite a number of our graduates have started on farms of their own. We need more such experimental farms. During a visit this summer, to the grave of our late benefactor, Max Schoenfeld, we offered a fervent prayer that the Divine Hand that has thus far guided and aided us may raise for us another such benefactor as the one that was all too soon taken from us. * * * * *

More experimental farms of the Schoenfeld type.

We are constantly adding to the equipment of our institution and have this year completed the ice house, the gift of Mr. Louis I. Aaron, of Pittsburgh, and we have erected a new smithy, in the construction of both of which, to a large extent, student labor has been used. It is the policy of the school to employ the students in the various activities of a farmstead, to teach them the use of tools, outside of the farmer's sphere, such as carpentry and masonry. Our students have felled our trees and assisted in road building, and, wherever necessary, they have been employed where their work could be of benefit to the school and to themselves.

Increase of equipment.

Some income is realized from the sales made to wholesale houses of produce raised by our students. It is suggested that this income would be larger if these products were sold direct to the consumer in Philadelphia. But this would oblige us to open a store, employ help, hire a delivery wagon, involving an expense for which we are not prepared.

Proposed retail store.

Yet, while we are not prepared to open a store for the sale of produce we are in the market for the sale of shrubs, bushes, evergreens, and ornamental trees. We sell these as cheaply as they can be purchased in any commercial market and of a quality equal to the best. We furthermore plant them, and, if necessary, look after them. If our friends will give us their patronage for trees of this character, we will be enabled to enlarge our nursery, and, in time, it will provide an increased source of revenue.

Shrubs and trees of our nursery for sale.

We have established the practice of planting memorial trees, in memory of friends of the school, and much of the arboreal beauty of our roads and lanes is due to these memorial trees, which every spring are planted to commemorate some dear one called to eternal reward. Following this practice we later instituted the planting of festive trees. This new feature has also met with favor. Of such trees, both memorial and festive, we planted last spring 115 and dedicated a lane, known as the Max Schoenfeld Memorial Lane, leading from Schoenfeld Farm Number One to Schoenfeld Farm Number Three, to the memory of the School's greatest benefactor, Mr. Max Schoenfeld.

The life membership of the school has been increased by the addition of twenty-six ($100.00 each) making a total of 152. Their names are published in the Year Book.

Life members and donations.

The total individual membership of the Farm School at present is 1630—a very small number indeed when one bears in mind the large number of Jewish inhabitants in our country.

The Federated Charities of Pittsburgh remembered us with the sum of $500.00, that of Kansas City with $350.00, Indianapolis $200.00, Little Rock $200.00, Memphis $200.00, Milwaukee $100.00, St. Paul $100.00, Toledo $100.00, Nashville $75.00, Vicksburg $25.00 and Philadelphia $7500.00, amounting in all to $9350.00. This list unfortunately does not include such large cities as Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Baltimore, and Boston, and many other large centers of population. Having received from many of these cities a considerable number of students, it would seem to be only right that the Charity Federations of these respective communities should make some contribution towards their maintenance.

Bequests from the estate of Annie M. Ferguson, Pittsburgh, Pa., Mina Friedman, Chicago, Ill., Benjamin Kahn, Philadelphia, Louis Lowenthal, Rochester, N. Y., Levi Stern, Philadelphia, Abraham Weiler, Columbus, Ohio, amounting in all to $1100.00 are hereby gratefully acknowledged.

From various other sources special donations were received amounting to $3,200.00, details of which will be found in the Year Book and are herewith gratefully acknowledged.

We desire to express our heartfelt thanks to the State of Pennsylvania, for the valuable aid afforded us; to our instructors and matrons for their patient and untiring labor; to the Jewish Hospital, for the kindly service rendered our boys in hours of need; to the distinguished speakers, who have honored us with their presence and participation in these exercises. At no time was this service more apparent than at the occasion of the public exercises last spring, which brought together an unusually large gathering of people. Men of national reputation, as well as men of local fame, honored us with their participation. Favored as we were by an ideal day, we were as equally well favored by the excellence of their addresses. At no time was the spirit of the exercises so elevated, and were the speakers so unanimous in upholding the work of the Farm School. Coming as they did, at a time when the nation realizes the absolute necessity of a new application of farming as a means of correcting the abuses which have entered the Republic, the speakers, with one accord, hailed the advent of the school as one of the saving factors of our day. Never before was the country so roused to the need of vigorous farming, as one of the agencies most needed to perpetuate our heritage of freedom. And never before were we so convinced that our School was rooted in the firm faith that, in order to prolong our days in peace and contentment, we must GO FORTH AND AGAIN POSSESS THE LAND.

Our encouragement to go forth and possess the land.

THE FARM SCHOOL COLONY IN UTAH

From the President's Message.

The National Farm School has reached a second stage in its development. We are about to launch larger endeavors than have hitherto been possible. One of the primary purposes of our school was to promote the establishment of colonies, presided over by the experts trained in the science of farming, and managed in a businesslike manner. Colonies that have hitherto been founded have suffered from the lack of just such well trained men. Headed as these were, by persons motivated with the best intentions, but unfitted for the difficult undertaking, they did not realize their fondest hopes because their leaders were unfamiliar with business conditions. The Farm School graduates have been trained to guide, as well as to teach a larger number of colonists. Its purpose is not merely to qualify a student as a farm manager, or provide him with a career. There has always been in the mind of the Board of Directors the possibility of establishing groups of people and families on tracts of land, who would be instructed and counseled in their pursuits by expert farmers.

Establishing colonies the advanced work of Farm School.

It is, therefore, with pleasure that we note the condition of the colony in Clarion, Utah, which is being directed by four graduates of The National Farm School. This colony, has purchased from the State of Utah 6000 acres on of three years. At present there are twenty-two which 150 families are to be settled in the course families, comprising a population of seventy-seven people, who are the pioneers of this settlement. The men of the colony, under the guidance and instruction of our graduates, successfully cultivated 1500 of their 6000 acres, during the past year, and produced a crop so successful that Mr. W. W. Armstrong, the President of the Commercial Club, of Salt Lake City, has declared that the founding of this colony, under the direction of scientifically trained leaders, is the greatest event in the history of Utah during the year 1911. The progress of this colony so far, proves the wisdom of the efforts of the School in training our graduates for the larger work that has always motivated the men who have built up this Institution, from the very beginning. It is confidently believed that our graduates are working out a plan at Clarion that is destined to overcome all the causes of failure of former colonizing attempts in this country and that the Clarion colony is to be the forerunner of many others.

The Utah Colony.

WHAT WE DO WITH OUR LAND

From the President's Message.

In light of our appeal for more land, it seems strange that people should ask what we do with all the land we have at the present time. There are some who think that we should be self-supporting. Of our 363 acres it must not be overlooked that our roads, our lanes for memorial trees and our grove, all withdraw a large acreage from actual cultivation and considering that we have green hands, that our boys are untrained, unprepared, hence destructive of tools and materials, that when their service really becomes valuable it is time for them to graduate, and to give their skill to others, the surprise should be, that under such untoward conditions, we are able to do as much as has been done.

The Director's Report will show that we have harvested:

119 Acres of Hay	.....	Yielding 250 tons
9 Acres of Sweet Corn	.....	Yielding 25,000 ears
10 Acres of Tomatoes	.....	Yielding 3,500 bushels
10 Acres of Apples	.....	Yielding 300 bushels
1 Acre of Grapes	.....	Yielding 500 bushels
13 Acres of Rye		Yielding 80 bushels; 8 Acres plowed in
9 Acres of Oats		Yielding 235 bushels and 8 tons Straw
4 Acres of Vegetables	.....	Yielding 5 tons
61 Acres of Corn		Yielding 1,800 bus. and 250 tons silage
8 Acres of Potatoes	.....	Yielding 700 bushels
4 Acres of Pears	.....	Yielding 100 bushels
8 Acres of Cowpeas	.....	Yielding 16 tons
7 Acres of Wheat	.....	100 bushels and 4 tons Straw
1 Acre of Cabbage	.....	Yielding 5,000 heads
2 Acres of Asparagus	.....	Yielding 400 bunches
133,210 Quarts of Milk, of which 93,192 quarts were sold to the Jewish and Mt. Sinai Hospitals of Philadelphia.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENSES EXPLAINED

From the President's Message.

The entire income from all sources, state appropriations, Federated Charities, bequests, donations and memberships has been $42,546.66 against which there was an expenditure of $44,206.06. This expenditure embraces the cost of lodging, clothing and other necessaries for one hundred and three boys, maintenance of the household, salaries of instructors, office force and rent, keep of stock and cattle, light, fuel, water power, etc., etc. It also includes the cost of propaganda, as well as of necessary repairs, the erection of the ice-house and smithy, road building, and additions to our live stock and implements. We must especially caution our friends against dividing the whole expense incurred during the year, by the number of students on our roll. They are responsible for a portion of the expense. It is unfair to charge against them the cost of propaganda or to fail to give credit for the material additions to our assets. It is not to be forgotten that the National Farm School started with nothing and that its assets to-day are worth a quarter of a million dollars, and that the largest part of these assets have been derived from our annual income, either in money received or in crops raised. Our deficit for the year is $1659.40, making our total deficit, to September 30th, 1912, $9741.87.

The expense of propaganda is naturally added to the legitimate running expenses of the institution, and must be included in figuring up the per capita expense of each student.

The expense of propaganda.

It is wrong however to charge against maintenance of the student body an item which is not a part of the expense incurred in educating and sustaining them. A sense of fairness in the future should prompt the critic to deduct from the expense account of educating and maintaining the students the amount of money used in raising a large part of our income.

CLARION, UTAH, SEPTEMBER, 1911

This hideous shed-scale and mesquite desert greeted the vision of the pioneers of the Farm School Colony when they sallied forth from the Ghettos of New York and Philadelphia, to seek a new "land of promise."

CLARION, UTAH, IN AUGUST, 1912

Oats, Wheat and Alfalfa have replaced shed-scale and mesquite—1,500 acres were successfully cultivated during the first 11 months under the expert guidance of National Farm School Graduates. The rider is Benjamin Brown, the organizer of the Colonial Association, and in the distance may be seen the homes of the colonists.

The Eleventh Graduation

Farm School, Pennsylvania, March 5th, 1912

The departure of two of the students to join hands with several earlier graduates in the Jewish Agricultural Colony composed of 150 families at Clarion, Utah, makes the Eleventh Graduation at The National Farm School stand out prominently in the institution's history. The training of such leaders and teachers is the high public service The National Farm School aims to perform.

Sixteen graduates passed out of the School at the exercises which were held in Segal Hall on Tuesday, March 5th, 1912. They were addressed by Rev. Dr. Jos. Krauskopf, President and Founder of the School, Adolph Eichholz, Esq., Dr. John H. Washburn, the Director of the School, and several members of the faculty.

Full course diplomas were awarded to:

Benjamin Druckerman	Harry L. Lubin
David A. Friedman	Jacob Minkowsky
Julius Levin	Benjamin Packer
Morris Salinger

and Certificates to:

Maurice Berman	Beryl Harrison	Leon Tyor
Arthur Bachman	Jerome Levy	Nathan Rosenberg
Israel Gabriel	Morris Lewis	Nathan Lipschutz,

The young men who departed at once for the Utah Colony to be joined later by Benjamin Druckerman.

were:

David A. Friedman and Morris Salinger.

Two of the graduates, Jerome Levy and Julius Levin, purchased their own farms where they became reunited with their families. Four other accepted important agricultural positions in Pennsylvania, and the rest entered upon similar duties in various parts of the country.

The Fifteenth Annual Spring Festival

Farm School, Pennsylvania, June 2nd, 1912

One of the most successful Spring Festivals in the history of The National Farm School was held on the grounds of the institution on June 2nd, 1912, when nearly seven hundred persons journeyed thither by special train to witness the brilliant exercises participated in by many prominent educators, rabbis, jurists, philanthropists and publicists. In the opinion of many who had the pleasure of attending other ceremonies and public functions at The National Farm School, it was a remarkable and inspiring manifestation of the growing public enthusiasm for the school and its purposes.

Those who participated in the exercises were: Provost Edgar Fahs Smith, of the University of Pennsylvania; Prof. Edwin R. A. Seligman, of Columbia University; Hon. George B. Orlady, Judge of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania; Rev. Dr. Henry Berkowitz, of Philadelphia; Elbert Hubbard; Daniel P. Hays and Ferdinand Kuhn, of New York City, and Dr. Joseph T. Rothrock, Expert Arboriculturist, of West Chester, Pa.

Judge Orlady was the presiding officer. In turning the gavel over to this distinguished jurist, Rev. Dr. Joseph Krauskopf, President and Founder of The National Farm School said, among other things:

"I welcome you to the installation of a new freshman class of students—31 in number—a cause for rejoicing, because that number is the largest ever enrolled in one season, but also a cause for sorrow, because that figure represents but a small fraction of the large number of lads who, on an average of six a day, clamor for admission to our school, but whose hearts' desire to fit themselves for the noblest of all callings, to redeem themselves from the bondage of the congested city, we must refuse, not having the room to house them nor the means to maintain them, our present enrollment of 83 students, taxing our capacity even beyond our limit."

Tribute was paid, by Mr. Ferdinand Kuhn, to the memory of Max Schoenfeld, who, during his lifetime, had been one of the staunchest and most generous friends of The National Farm School, presenting to it most of its broad acres and many thousands of dollars.

"In one conversation that Max Schoenfeld had with me," said Mr. Kuhn, "I remember distinctly his saying:

"You have your hospitals, your orphan asylums, your aid societies, your united charities, your settlements, but these societies, worthy as they are, do not solve the problem which becomes greater as each shipload of immigrants flows into a district that is already saturated far beyond its capacity. The crying need of the hour, indeed the only hope for the future lies in the creation of a distinct and powerful sentiment in favor of a healthy diversity of occupation and a proper distribution away from the Ghetto.

"These young men of the Farm School will become the forerunners of a movement that, once obtaining momentum, will convert the thousands. Each graduate will become a farm school in himself, a teacher who will surround himself with pupils who, in their turn, will become the preceptors of others. The seed thus grown will gradually ripen into a crop of Jewish farmers successfully tilling the soil in every agricultural State from Maine to California. Jewish farm colonies will find a natural growth and eventually the Jewish farmer will be in number proportionate to the total Jewish population."

Following the reading of messages, the beautiful and impressive ceremony of consecrating trees took place. Representatives of the student-body reported that ninety-eight trees had been planted in memory of deceased friends, and seventeen white birch trees in commemoration of festive occasions.

Dr. Joseph T. Rothrock, delivered the address of consecration.

Mr. Daniel P. Hays, of New York, eulogized Mr. and Mrs. Isidor Straus, universally lamented victims of the Titanic disaster, in a special memorial address. He said:

"This tribute is paid to Mr. Straus not because he was a merchant prince and a great leader nor because he exhibited courage on the ship, but because in his life he recognized the obligation he owed to his religion. He lent a helping hand to every worthy cause. He was a modest, simple, honest, genuine man, as all great men are. The scenes on the deck of that ship will be told again and again, and will never be old. The noble exhibition of womanhood must be recognized; the tie that bound Mr. and Mrs. Straus together could not be broken. We who knew Mrs. Straus all said that she could not be saved if her husband was drowned. We knew that she would not leave her husband. We knew her as a mother in Israel. Thank God that out of the gloom comes that light that makes for the nobility of human life."

The Rev. Dr. Henry Berkowitz voiced a feeling eulogy of the late Rabbi Israel Aaron, of Buffalo, whose death four days after the celebration of the 25th anniversary of his ministry, cast a gloom over American Jewry.

At the conclusion of this ceremony the Rev. William Armhold, the venerable cantor of the Keneseth Israel Congregation, recited the traditional Kaddish. Rabbi Isaac Landman gave prayer for the dead in English.

Prof. Seligman's address was a brilliant discussion of the importance of agriculture to the economic progress of the nation.

"In the rush of modern industry, we are apt to forget the importance still to be attached to agriculture, for agriculture, after all, is the fundamental basis of the entire industrial superstructure. When England became a vast industrial people she mistakenly allowed her agriculture to suffer, with the result that England today but for its prodigious navy would be at the mercy of the rest of the world for the provision of its food supply and its raw materials. When a generation or two later the industrial transition took place in Germany, Germany acted more wisely in seeking to maintain and to retain some of its agricultural advantages. We, in the United States, are perhaps in no danger of following the example of Great Britain but the note of warning which has frequently been sounded of late must not be overlooked. However great industrially the United States of the future is to become a due regard for the ultimate welfare of the nation implies a conservation and development of its agricultural resources.

"Institutions like this which are helping to swell the numbers of the future enlightened farmers are building more wisely than they know; for they are helping this country not only economically but socially and politically. The well-to-do, intelligent, businesslike farming class of the future in this country will form the political backbone of the nation and will continue to invigorate its social and political life."

"Fra" Elbert Hubbard, the Sage of East Aurora, delivered a characteristic address, sparkling with epigrams, bubbling over with wit and humor and replete with wisdom, bringing the exercises to a close.

The Fifteenth Succoth Pilgrimage

Farm School, Pennsylvania, October 6th, 1912

Dr. Edgar Fahs Smith, Provost of the University of Pennsylvania, Dr. Martin Brumbaugh, Superintendent of the Public Schools of Philadelphia, and William R. George, founder of the George Junior Republic, were the principal speakers at the Fifteenth Succoth Pilgrimage and Annual Meeting of The National Farm School, which was held in Segal Hall, on Sunday, October 6th, 1912. In the absence, due to illness, of Dr. Krauskopf, President and Founder of the School, Mr. Harry B. Hirsh, the Vice President, took the chair and introduced the speakers; Rabbi Isaac Landman read the President's message, "Go Forth and Possess the Land," printed in another part of the report.

Dr. Smith, in the course of a brilliant address directed to the students, epitomized the great value of scientific agriculture as taught by The National Farm School, saying:

"Here you have an opportunity to get an education. You are away from all the distractions of the city and town, and are in contact with mother nature. About you there are objects which carry with them the greatest secrets. When these are disclosed, they open up such a fund of knowledge, fraught with so much pleasure that I have often wondered why we want to live within the narrow compasses of our city homes.

"Learn the nature of the soil you are being taught to till. What is it? Of what is it composed? What is the nature of its components? This will bring you in contact with the science of chemistry. That science will help you to discover the composition of all materials. It is the science that will make clear to you the composition of the air you breathe, the food you eat, the water you drink, and the clothes you wear. A knowledge of that science will help you to determine what things will grow on a particular piece of soil, what that plant life about you, the potatoes, the beans, the corn, the wheat, the rye, the oats, these fruit trees and these shade trees, take up from that soil; and by means of that science you are going to learn what to put back upon the soil to restore it to its original power."

Reports were submitted by the Treasurer, the Director, Professor Bishop, head of the Agricultural Department; Professor W. F. Fancourt, head of the Horticultural Department, and by Miss Hetty Abraham, the Matron of the School, all of which are published in this Year Book.

After the distribution of prizes, Dr. Krauskopf was re-elected President of the School; Mr. Harry B. Hirsh, Vice President; Mr. I. H. Silverman, Treasurer and as members of the Executive Board for three years: Hart Blumenthal, Horace Hano, Alfred M. Klein, Isaac Landman and Barney Selig.

Report of Schoenfeld Memorial Farms Committee

FARM No. 1

Senior, Beryl Harrison, and Junior, Philip Amrum, are in charge of this farm. The crops have been better this year than ever before. Both of the young men have been most industrious and earnest in their endeavors. They have 8 cows, 2 horses, 50 fowl, and have cultivated 15 acres of corn,  $1\frac{1}{2}$  acres of tomatoes,  $\frac{1}{4}$  acre of potatoes, 1 acre sweet corn,  $4\frac{1}{2}$  acres of peas and oats, raised 3 acres of wheat and 10 tons of hay.

FARM No. 2

This is the fruit farm. The 16-acre peach and apple orchard has been reported on in the Director's Report. The 2 acres of asparagus, cut for the first time this year, yielded well for a young bed. The resetting of plants last year has filled the bed and the plants are strong and vigorous. The young vineyard set out last year, as a test of varieties on this kind of soil, is doing nicely. The plants have grown luxuriously and will produce fruit within a few years. The quinces, set out a few years ago, will begin to bear next year. The soil on this farm was in a very worn-out condition, when purchased. This year it has grown crops of grass and corn that are very creditable to the system of reclamation.

FARM No. 3

In rendering the fourth annual report of our stewardship of Flora Schoenfeld Memorial Farm Number Three, we beg to submit herewith for your consideration, a statement for a period extending from March 1st, 1911, to September 30th, 1912. This is due to the fact that we wish the closing of our fiscal year to conform with that of the Home Farm, and especially since the farmer's year ends with the harvest. During the period just mentioned, we have improved the tenant house and the silo. We have reclaimed an eight-acre field, which produced practically nothing, but which now gives promise of material results. We have grown a crop of cowpeas on it this year and a crop of rye will be sown this fall, to be plowed in next spring and will then be laid down to grass.

While we have liabilities, aggregating $3,013.81, the value of the products on hand when sold, which include 100 tons of hay, 5 acres of tomatoes, 5 acres of rye and sundry crops, will materially reduce this indebtedness. We have sold milk and other products to the value of $5,258.85.

During our incumbency of this farm we have greatly improved the value of the land, by the constant application of fertilizers and have enhanced the value of the property by the addition of farm buildings and by improvements to the tenant house.

We trust that, during the ensuing year even more satisfactory results will be obtained and that, upon the presentation of our fifth annual report, our indebtedness will have been greatly reduced.

Respectfully submitted,

B. BINSWANGER,

Chairman.

Report of the Treasurer

For the Year Ending, September 30th, 1912

Herewith is submitted the Treasurer's report for the fiscal year ending September 30th, 1912, which, upon analytical study, shows the following results. The net maintenance receipts, derived from all sources, aggregates $36,440.16, against an income of $38,610.90 last year. This difference is due to the fact that the income from propaganda in 1911 was included in the regular Dues and Donations Account, while this year it has been segregated under the heading of Extraordinary Receipts. Our expenditures for the maintenance of our boys, which includes board, lodging, clothing, instruction, the cost of repairs to our implements, which, being handled by inexperienced hands of our students is, naturally, very large, the feeding of our stock, the upkeep of our property, taxes, insurance, etc., etc., is $35,280.72. Comparing this figure with our cost of maintenance for 1911, which was $37,120.55, it will be seen that, notwithstanding the increased cost of the necessities of life, which has been felt throughout the country, the cost of maintaining our boys has been even less this year than last, showing that the institution is being conducted each year, more and more, on a systematic basis.

It will be seen that the sale of our Farm Products has not been as large this year as in 1911, due to the lateness of this year's season. The value of the products on hand, however, and those not yet harvested will more than equalize the excess of 1911 over 1912.

The deficit this year including the extraordinary disbursements for improvements to our property, which adds to the value of our assets, and the very extensive propaganda conducted throughout the year is $1,659.40, making our total indebtedness to date $9,722.52.

While the report shows that our propaganda expense for this year has exceeded our returns, I beg leave to call your attention to the fact that nearly all of the $6,106.50, received from this source, has been subscribed in annual memberships which can be counted on annually, for at least several years to come, with practically no expense.

During the past year, the sum of $4,749.25 in bequests, special donations, and life memberships, has been added to the Endowment Fund, making that fund total $88,760.31. It is hoped that next year at this time we may be able to report that the fund totals $100,000.00.

Respectfully submitted,

I. H. SILVERMAN, Treasurer.

The Director's Report

THE STUDENT BODY: During the past year we have given instruction to one hundred and three young men, graduating seven from our four years' course and giving certificates to the others for work in both theoretical and practical agriculture, some for a course extending over two years, and some over three years.

It was possible to select the Freshman Class with more care than usual this year because the number of applicants for admission was larger than ever before. Seventy-four are in the School at the present time.

THE FARM WORK: The students have cared for sixty head of cows and young stock, twenty-six horses, swine, varying from twenty to a hundred in number, and poultry varying from two hundred to one thousand head. They have cultivated and harvested over 282 acres. They raised 61 acres of corn, 9 acres of sweet corn, 80 acres of hay, 10 acres of tomatoes, 8 of potatoes, 16 of peach orchard, 10 of apple orchard, 4 of pears, 1 of grapes, 8 of cowpeas, 13 of rye, 4 of wheat, 1 of cabbage, 4 of vegetables, 2 of asparagus. Outside of our farm, we harvested 39 acres of hay, 3 of wheat and 9 of oats, which were bought for our use. When it is understood that all the work mentioned above is performed by students most of whom were never on a farm before, it speaks well for what they have acquired while at The National Farm School.

HORTICULTURE: The new location of the nursery has transformed a very prominent part of our grounds, and added to its attractiveness. It furnishes valuable instruction to our pupils and is practically self-maintaining. Over $200.00 worth of plants were sold from it this spring and the remaining stock is worth over $1,500.00. Our vegetable garden has furnished the Boarding House with $726.00 worth of produce, and we have sold about $50.00 worth of surplus. Our greenhouses have been a very valuable laboratory for the pupils in horticulture. Greenhouses at most agricultural institutions are operated at a loss. Our greenhouses more than pay for themselves. We have received over $590.00 for cut flowers and tomatoes. The pupils have put in new wooden bottoms to the benches in the old houses during the summer and have painted all the sash and the outside and inside of the three houses. The vineyard has done well. The black rot, which was quite prevalent in former years, has been entirely controlled by spraying. There were grapes enough to preserve for winter use in the Household Department. The asparagus has done unusually well this year.

THE ORCHARDS: The thirty acres used for apple, pear and peach orchard have been cared for by our pupils, with ever increasing interest. We have had a demand for men trained in orchard work, greater than we have been able to supply. The interest in renovating old orchards and the setting out of new ones, that has been felt throughout the country, is very apparent in our pupils. Several of our young men are making a specialty of this branch of horticulture. The new peach and apple orchard was well filled with buds last fall, but the exceptionally severe winter killed most of the peach buds, so that only a small amount of fruit was grown. The trees are well set with fruit for another year and, with an ordinary winter, a good crop can be expected. The apple orchards have done well, although the crop is not as large as last year, this being the off year in this part of the country.

IMPROVEMENTS: The building of an ice house has enabled us to store, from our lake, sufficient ice for all our needs. A blacksmith shop has been built, filling a long needed want. The repair of our wagons is facilitated by having the iron parts repaired and the tires set at home. This should make an important factor in our instruction in agricultural mechanics. The roads on the farms were improved during the month of August, when the crops did not require special attention. A new road of six hundred feet has been made from the peach orchard to the main road leading to Schoenfeld Farm No. 3.

THE HOUSEHOLD: The care of the rooms in the dormitories during the past year has been good. The health of the pupils is excellent. A few accidents from foot ball and other games have confined a few boys to their rooms for short periods. We have had one case of appendicitis. The young man was sent to the Jewish Hospital to be operated upon and followed with a remarkably quick recovery. The care of the house and the culinary department has continued under the successful management of Miss Hetty Abraham and her assistant, Mrs. Clara Barnes.

The cash receipts from the Home Farm amount to $3,826.85 during the past 11 months. We have considerable hay, tomatoes and apples yet to be sold. The value of the products delivered to the Boarding House for the year is over $2,600.00. These amounts do not include the many tons of hay, corn, silage, and other crops held to support the farm animals during the winter..

Agricultural Department Report

OUR LAND: The crops of this year have been more uniformly successful than for several years past. A survey of our growing crops accompanied by the weight of the same, as harvested, will show our yields, per acre, are steadily increasing. This year's yields have never been surpassed. Continued applications of manure and fertilizers, better cultivation, better seed selection, are all showing results, but we have not yet reached the maximum that can be produced.

We look for, and confidently expect to obtain, larger yields from our land with each succeeding year for some time to come. Our system of farming, based as it is upon dairying and the supplying of the necessary supplemental plant foods, is such as rapidly to increase the fertility of our soil and hence enable us to grow larger crops with greater profit. Our aim is so to conduct our cropping as to teach the boys how to produce profitable crops by such methods as may be available to them when they possess farms of their own.

THE CROPS: Hay is one of our principal crops. About 225 tons have been harvested of which less than half will be sold and the remainder will be fed to the live stock on the farms. About 250 tons of silage are stored for the use of the dairy cattle. We expect to harvest about 1800 bushels of field corn all of which will be used in feeding the cattle, horses and mules. In addition to the grain this should give us about 70 tons of stover for use of feed and bedding for the stock. About 25,000 ears of sweet corn were produced and the accompanying stover will be used as feed for our cows.

The potato crop this year promises to be better than for several years past, but as it is not yet harvested we can only say that we hope for a crop of 700 or 800 bushels, or enough to supply the Boarding Department as long as the potatoes can be kept in good condition. This year we are again growing tomatoes for seed for Messrs. W. Atlee Burpee & Co., Seedsmen. Only a portion of the crop has been picked, but we look for a yield of not less than 3,500 bushels.

Last year we harvested a total of about 1,500 bushels of apples. This season the crop will be less than one-fourth of that due to the severe cold of last winter and also that this happens to be an off year in this part of the country, but the quality of the apples harvested this year is far better than any preceding crop. There will be a few apples for marketing and enough others to give the Boarding Department all it can use while they can be kept in storage.

THE DAIRY: The dairy herds have produced 133,218 quarts of milk or an average of 364 quarts daily throughout the year. The value of this milk is approximately $6,000.00. This has been disposed of in the usual ways. Both the Jewish and the Mount Sinai Hospitals have been supplied and our own Boarding Department furnished with milk and cream, besides butter for a few months in the winter.

Since this locality is well-suited to dairying, that interest continues to be the leading one on our farms, and must so continue as long as we undertake to fit young men to own farms of their own. Throughout most of our northern and eastern states dairying offers the best opportunities for the young man who starts out on a farm of his own, since, from the beginning, he is assured of a regular income from the sale of dairy products.

Respectfully submitted,

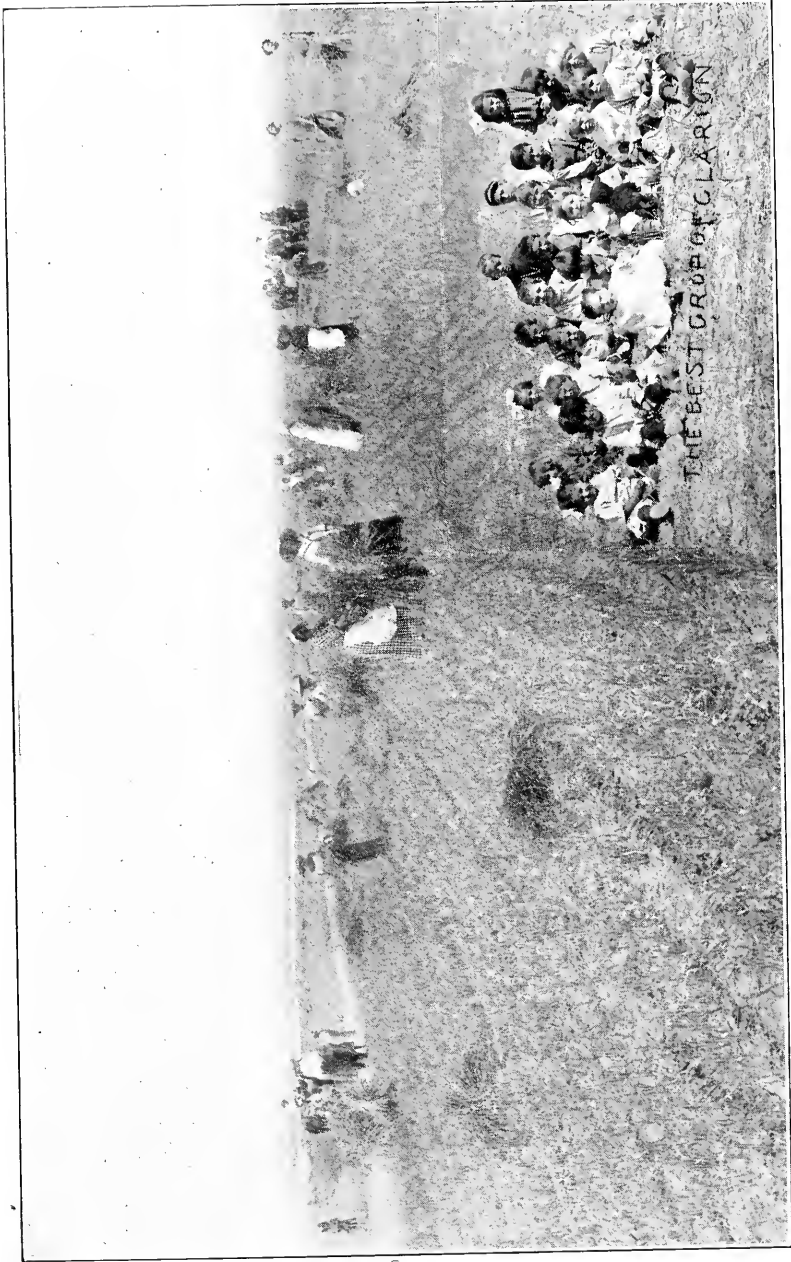

W. H. BISHOP,

Agriculturist.

TWO CROPS AT CLARION; THE FARM SCHOOL COLONY IN UTAH

THE BEST CROP AT CLARION

The women have a two-fold happiness—one, helping their husbands garner the result of their labor in the fields, the other, the knowledge that their babes, weeds of the Ghettoes, are now sturdy American growths, safe from the moral and physical dangers of the tenements and city streets.

Horticultural Department Report

Since our last report the Horticultural Department has continued to show substantial progress. Many new varieties have been added to our collection of plants in our greenhouses, largely through friendly donations. A new feature this year is the planting of one-half of the Rose Krauskopf Memorial Greenhouse, with chrysanthemums, which promises good results.

A larger number of plants were propagated than ever before, of which many hundreds were used in the decoration of our grounds. Fifteen hundred young evergreens were also propagated and have been planted in the Nursery, adding much to its value; these plants are somewhat difficult to reproduce and the students in charge of this branch of the department deserve great credit. The stock withstood the rigors of last winter without injury. It contains many beautiful specimens and has made splendid growth this season.

A Japanese creeping vine has been planted at the base of the Elise Binswanger Memorial Arch and, it is hoped, by next summer, will have spread over part of the arch. A pergola has been erected at the end of the new extension of the Nursery.

In no previous year has this department supplied a more abundant amount of vegetables to the Boarding House, while quantities of tomatoes, beans and other vegetables have been canned for winter use.

In my last report I spoke of the pressing need of a fitting cellar for the storage of fruits and vegetables for winter use. I am still in hopes that some generous friend of the School will supply this want.

The students' individual gardens have been maintained at a high standard this season. Dr. and Mrs. Krauskopf again placed at my disposal $25.00 for prizes to be awarded in this contest.

The cash sales of products sold from this department were, $202.21 from the Nursery, $590.75 from Greenhouse products and $39.43 from the vegetable gardens, making a total of $832.39. Vegetables were supplied to the Boarding House to the amount of $726.00.

Respectfully submitted,

W. F. FANCOURT.

Report of the Ladies' Auxiliary Board

The Directresses of the Board of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the National Farm School during the past year, held monthly meetings in the Board Room of Temple Keneseth Israel from October until May (inclusive).

Their aim is to co-operate with the Executive Board. Their committees consult with the Matron of the Farm School in reference to provisions and domestic help needed and members of the Board visit the Farm School semi-monthly.

NATIONAL FARM SCHOOL SEWING CIRCLE

Meetings of the Farm School Sewing Circle were held in 1911-1912 on the first and third Thursday of each month from November to April (inclusive). There has been a falling off in the attendance, consequently the work done was not as satisfactory as heretofore. It is to be hoped that more interest in the good work will be shown the coming season and a hearty welcome is promised to all who will attend the meetings.

The following articles were made and sent to the Farm School:

53 sheets, 34 waiter's aprons, 26 laundry bags, 132 table napkins, 154 face towels, 18 roller towels.

Matron's Report

One hundred and three students have passed through the School during the year. We have sleeping accommodations in four buildings. Owing to lack of funds, the dining hall has not been improved by the suggested enlargement, thus the crowded seating capacity is a drawback to discipline and decorum.

With the purchase of a fine refrigerator, holding 800 pounds of ice, the building of a sanitary receptacle for garbage and an air shaft in the kitchen ceiling, the culinary department has been very much benefitted.

The number of help in the household remains the same as last year. Ice has been supplied from our own lake for all the needs of the institution. The kitchen garden supplied the household with an abundant quantity of every kind of vegetable, some fruit and apples. The dairy has supplied us with cream, milk and butter. There have been preserved for winter use, about fifteen hundred quarts of string beans, tomatoes, crab apples, pears, cherries, grapes and jellies.

Following is a list of the products of the farm supplied to the Boarding Department, from October 1st, 1911, to August 31st, 1912, a period of eleven months:

Milk, 21,786 quarts .....	$917.58
Butter, 750 pounds .....	216.70
Cream, 551 quarts .....	154.45
Cheese, 44 pounds .....	1.55
Eggs, 231 dozen .....	63.85
Poultry, 402 pounds .....	72.32
Celery, 331 heads .....	13.24
Onions, 19 bushels .....	16.20
Squashes, 160 .....	4.80
Tomatoes (Greenhouse), 245 pounds .....	16.50
Cumumbers (Greenhouse), 3200 .....	17.50
Potatoes, 129 bushels .....	129.00

Beets, 77 bushels .....	47.40
Cabbage, 2245 heads .....	71.55
Carrots, 69 bushels .....	27.65
Lima Beans, 20 bushels .....	24.00
String Beans, 27 bushels .....	22.80
Corn, 11,700 ears .....	117.00
Egg Plants, 170 .....	5.10
Peppers, 2 bushels .....	1.50
Tomatoes, 39 bushels .....	16.30
Lettuce (Greenhouse), 490 heads .....	32.60

Turnips, 34 bushels .....	13.60
Apples, 215 bushels .....	70.75
Apple Butter, 49 gallons .....	22.14
Vinegar, 90 gallons .....	12.60
Asparagus, 455 bunches .....	55.80
Onions, 90 bunches .....	4.50
Radishes, 900 bunches .....	33.60
Carrots, 15 bunches .....	.75

The Ladies' Auxiliary Sewing Circle of The National Farm School furnishes the store room with all kinds of linens and useful articles. The Needle Work Guild of Philadelphia, makes an annual donation of serviceable garments. A number of large drug firms have kindly supplied us with home remedies. We are again grateful to the Jewish Hospital for kind treatment of our students who required special care in several cases, surgical operations.

Respectfully submitted,
HETTY ABRAHAM, Matron.

The Alumni Association

---

The Alumni Association celebrated its second year's existence at its Third Annual Meeting, held on October 6th, 1912, at Segal Hall, Farm School.

Fifteen Alumni were present. Numerous letters and telegrams were received from graduates, who could not attend, assuring their loyal support to the Association and their Alma Mater.

The Secretary, Charles Horn, '06, reported that a great many of the graduates are holding excellent agricultural positions. A number of them are purchasing farms of their own within the vicinity of the School.

Encouraging reports were received from the four Alumni in charge of the Colony at Clarion, Utah.

At the meeting held on October 6th, 1912, it was agreed to offer to the student who has been most efficient in practical and theoretical general agriculture, a gold medal, provided he has completed the full prescribed course of study and work. Judgment to be passed by Faculty.

Officers were elected for the ensuing year, as follows:

President—Jacob Ratner, '05.

Vice President—Samuel Galblum, '08.

Secretary and Treasurer—Charles Horn, '06.

Executive Committee—Max Coltun, '10, and Emanuel Malis,

Prizes to Students

The appeal made to friends of the school to contribute money prizes for efficiency in the various departments of the School, was answered, to so pleasing an extent, that, during the past year, $284.50, in cash, were awarded to the various students at the School for proficiency, effort and improvement. The money for these prizes is contributed as follows:

"The Herbert T. Hyman Prizes." The interest of $150.00 donated by Mrs. Bernard Sluizer, in memory of her son.

"The Joseph Louchheim Prizes." The interest of $250.00 contributed to the Endowment Fund by Harry Louchheim, of New York, in memory of his father.

"The Joseph Louchheim Prizes." The interest of $250.00 contributed to the Endowment Fund by Mrs. L. S. Eliel, of Philadelphia, in memory of her father.

"The Anchel Rosenthal Prizes." The interest of $500.00 bequeathed to the Endowment Fund.

"The Harriet B. Labe Prizes." The interest of $100.00 bequeathed to the Endowment Fund.

This is the "parent" building of the Institution and two additional dormitory buildings have been added—Segal Hall and Pennsylvania Hall, yet our accommodations are woefully inadequate. 300 eager applicants for an education in practical and scientific agriculture, had to be turned away by us last spring. To stimulate 300 young men seriously to consider agriculture as their life's vocation is an achievement—to disappoint them, a tragedy!

JUST as improved farm implements make for the prosperity and the comfort of the farmer, so do improved lighting and cooking appliances advance city dwellers.

The All-Gas Kitchen, where cooking is done and water is heated only by Gas insures the best result with the least effort at the least cost. There are very many in use in Philadelphia, where
"U. G. I. Service" is a guarantee of satisfaction to the consumer.

WASHING DAY

It's wasin' day at our house
An' this is how I tell:
It comes right after Sunday
An' it has a sudsy smell

An' father's in a hurry
An' mother's tired out,
An' every one's jes' awful cross
An' don't want me about.

So I take Teddy an' my doll
An' we go off an' play
That ev'ry day is Christmas,
An' the' ain't no washin' day.

Now my Aunt Jane, she's awful wise
An' never in a quandry,
On Monday she makes cakes and pies
An' wash goes to the laundry.

"The Excelsior Laundry treats you right!"
Says Aunt Jane to my cousin,
My linens are so nice and bright
An' Thirty-five a Dozen.

An' you'll be pleased, I tell you true
Send postal, wire or phone
Nineteenth and Montgomery Avenoo
An' have some peace at home.

"IF IT IS GOOD TO EAT WE SELL IT"

The Advertising Value of Light

An Electrically lighted store or place of business can be made to stand out as prominently from its environment as does a mansion surrounded by delapidated dwellings.

It's merely a matter of judicious window and exterior lighting.

Electrical exterior lighting is not illumination, it is primarily advertising—first-class, business booming publicity which brings large returns for a comparatively small expenditure.

You recognize the up-to-date stores now-a-days by the extent to which they employ electricity! Test that statement by counting the successful shops in this city not using Electric Light. Ask us for rates and estimates.
